Berkeley Councilman Investigates Seattle and Portland Paving, Etc. Lauds Vitrified Brick Standard Oil Advances Wages Again For Christmas Gift

Councilman F. T. Robson of Berkeley has just returned from a trip to the cities of the northwest, where he investigated the Portland and Seattle way of paving streets, handling garbage, etc. This is what he says about street paving:

"I was particularly struck with the condition of the streets in both Seattle and Portland," continued Robson. "Seattle is paved principally with brick and the success of this method of paving has been amply demonstrated. The bricks are specially made for the purpose and are laid edgeways. They have a pleasing appearance, and the cleanliness of the brick paved streets that have been laid for more than twenty years and the splendid condition in which they were, came as a revelation to me. In Portland about half of the streets are paved with bitulithic paving, while a few streets were covered with Hassen paving, which I understand has been found eminently successful."

Robson favors the incinerator plan of disposing of garbage by municipal collection, free of charge to the householders, the expense to be included in the tax rate.

A little Christmas cheer for the poor neighbor's children will raise your stock perceptibly and widen your vision.

They Say "It Can't Be Done"; But One Never Can Tell

Apropos of the installation of transparent fronts in the drinking emporiums of Richmond, an enterprising local glazier claims he can install glass that will make a man drinking a stein (when his wife is passing) look like one of Goldberg's dwarf cartoons, entirely unrecognizable by his nearest friends. Now what do the "drys" think of that?

Naval Base Commissioners Ask For More Data

The naval base situation remains about "status quo" today, there being no sensational developments, other than processions of automobiles with all the notables, officials, and private citizens who claim to have a "toe-nail hold" on the site for the base.

The commission is composed of Rear Admiral J. M. Helm, U.S.N., Chief Constructor W. L. Capps, U.S.N., Civil Engineer H. R. Housen, U.S.N., Captain G.W. McElroy, U.S.N., and Commander C. L. Hussey, U.S.N., who are showing the greatest interest in the task assigned to them. These officers have declined invitations for entertainment since their arrival.

When the report of the commission is made public, it is to be hoped that the Richmond-Albany-Berkeley site will have won the prize. Till then, we are in suspense.

Big $2,000,000 Dam in San Pablo Creek Will Be Completed In Two Years.

The big $2,000,000 dam being constructed by the Peoples Water company in San Pablo creek will take about two years to complete. The magnitude of this job can be imagined from the fact that bids have been asked for the hauling of 300 carloads of cement from the railroads stations in Richmond to the site of the dam. There are now employed on the work 100 four-horse teams, two steam shovels and numerous gangs of scrapers. The cut which is being dug to get bedrock for the foundation of the dam is now down sixty-five feet. A tunnel in the hill at the south side to divert the flow of excess water while the dam is building is in 200 feet.

A temporary dam will store part of this winter's run-off from the watershed.

The lake will be 6 by 3 miles, the greatest depth to be 100 feet. On the western side of the reservoir a fill of 160 feet high will be necessary. —Pinole Times.

Albany Paving Bond Election Carried by Overwhelming Vote

By a vote of 239 to 31, the people of Albany on Saturday voted in favor of a bond issue of $20,000 for the purpose of paving that portion of San Pablo avenue in the limits of the city.

The decision of the Albany electorate makes possible the paving of the entire length of San Pablo avenue, the county supervisors of Alameda county having agreed to pave a strip on the west side of the avenue of 18 feet, from the Oakland city line to the Contra Costa line.

The paving of San Pablo avenue from Oakland to the Contra Costa line will complete the last link of the Lincoln highway into San Francisco and will form a direct route from Stockton and it is anticipated that all traffic from the northern cities will be diverted to this route.

Passing of Pioneer Woman; Came to California in 1859

(Albany Argus)

Mrs. Clarisa J. Freeman, mother of city treasurer, Mrs. Laura Isom, died at the home of Mrs. Isom Thursday, the funeral services being held at Marin Avenue Methodist Church on Saturday morning.

Rev. Thomas Boyer, pastor of the Christian Church of Richmond, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Hugh Baker, pastor of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Freeman came overland to California in 1859 and settled in Sierra county, where she lived for twenty years.

There were present at the funeral services, besides Mrs. Isom, two sons, F. W. Freeman of Terrington, New Jersey, and Geo. W. Freeman of Sonoma county, and two daughters, Mrs. Ada Stubbs of Stockton and Dr. Clara Freeman. Aubrey Isom came down from Sacramento to attend the funeral.

New Year's Celebration Committee Will Complete Arrangements Tonight

The general committee for the New Year's celebration will meet this evening at the Elk's building to work out the remaining details of the big New Year's fete.

The carnival company, which has the contract for decorating the tunnel and wharf, will produce some elaborate effects, and with the fraternal and civic organizations occupying booths on both sides of the wharf, the scene will be one of the most attractive ever witnessed in Richmond.

Twenty-third street is the swellest in town, say the proud residents since the paving is completed.

"The old dredger makes a noise like a chariari," said a stranger last night when told the cause.

County Treasurer J. Rio Baker

Tuesday deposited over $300,000 in San Francisco banks. This proves that Martin Joost has been doing some business with the taxpayers.

The City Council Monday night turned down the request of the Richmond Retail Liquor Dealers' Association for reduction in liquor license by a vote of 7 to 2, Gerlach and Pictor voting no.

Duffy Lewis and Bill Lange were umpires last Sunday at the Elk games on St. Ignatius field, San Francisco. The Oakland Elks drill team with the Albany band of 40 pieces were in attendance.

Passing of Dr. Warren B. Brown

The death of Dr. Warren B. Brown, pioneer citizen and a man beloved by all, was a shock to the many friends of deceased, many of whom did not know the Doctor was ill, so suddenly was he taken away, an acute attack of Bright's disease being the cause of his death. He expired at 9:15 Friday evening, Dec. 8, at the family residence, 411 21st street.

Dr. Brown was a native of Zanesville, Ohio, coming to California in the eighties. Although educated for a physician and teacher, and having the highest credentials and testimonies as to his ability, he preferred newspaper work, his first engagements being with Columbus and Cincinnati journals.

In 1903 he came to Richmond and founded The Richmond Terminal, a newspaper which he conducted until March, 1911, when he sold to the present owner.

Editor Brown was a man of wide acquaintance, especially with men of educational and national fame. He was a warm personal friend of the late candidate for the vice presidency, Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks.

He leaves a widow, Anna Kate Brown, a son and daughter, Mrs. Samuel Shadow of San Francisco. Also two nephews, Thomas P. Brown of Sacramento, a newspaper man, and Joseph Brown of Arizona, an electrician; three nieces, each of whom are high school teachers—Misses Ara and Lillian Brown of Sacramento and Miss Isabel Brown of Berkeley.

The funeral was held Monday, and was largely attended by pioneers, the impressive rites of the Alpha Lodge of Masons and a fitting eulogy feelingly spoken by the W. M., R. E. Slattery, with musical numbers rendered by Acantha Chapter Easter Star quartet being a tribute to the memory of a good and loyal citizen.

Weekly Summary of World's News

CHASE LASTING FOR MONTHS IS ENDED

Mrs. Lulu Day, Arrested in North Dakota, Is Charged With Kidnapping

Berkeley.—A search covering the western half of the United States and extending over a period of seven months came to an end December 9, when Mrs. Lulu Day, wanted for the alleged kidnapping of Lulu Wanda Schneider, infant daughter of a German army Lieutenant, who was killed in battle three days after the birth of the baby, and for the theft of $2500 worth of jewelry from the home of Richard S. Rogers in San Diego, was arrested by Sheriff Fitzgerald of Jamestown, N. D.

A wire apprising him of the arrest was received by Chief of Police August Vollmer, but no mention was made of the Schneider baby.

The story told the police by Mrs. Anna Schneider, mother of the missing infant, on May 27 last, was that Mrs. Day, who had been living with Mrs. Schneider at 1939 Francisco street in the home of John Agee, an artist, took the baby for a visit to friends in San Jose two days previous to the report.

Mrs. Schneider returned home, she said, to find that Mrs. Day's trunk had been removed from the house, and becoming alarmed, the mother communicated with the families in San Jose at whose homes Mrs. Day was to visit, but they had not seen Mrs. Day.

Mrs. Schneider in turn communicated with persons in San Diego, where she had been employed, following the death of her husband, in the same hotel with Mrs. Day, and in El Paso, a former home of Mrs. Day. No trace of the baby nor the woman could be found by the mother, so the police were called in.

On the day that Mrs. Day left Berkeley with Mrs. Schneider's care, the police had received a request from the San Diego police to arrest Mrs. Day and hold her for the theft of $2500 worth of jewelry from the Rogers home, and the queen took on an added interest when the charge of kidnapping was added by Mrs. Schneider.

Mrs. Schneider, whom death had robbed of every living relative, save the baby, grieved until she was prostrated over the loss of the little one, and personally communicated with every chief of police in the western states, who were also communicated with by the Berkeley police.

Mrs. Schneider held to the theory that Mrs. Day had stolen the baby for the purpose of blackmailing Ernest Leighton, an official of the Northern Pacific Railway with offices in Seattle. The baby's mother told the police that Mrs. Day had used a "borrowed baby" for a similar purpose while living in El Paso several years ago.

THREATENED WITH JAIL FOR DENYING HER CHILD

San Rafael—"If you were a man I would put you in jail, but seeing that you are a woman I will instruct the District Attorney to lay your case before the Grand Jury or file a direct complaint against you charging perjury."

Said Superior Judge Edgar T. Zook December 8 to Mrs. Marie Eleanor Banta, wife of a Martinez hotel man, and former wife of the late David T. Hanbury, a wealthy Englishman, who died in 1910.

Mrs. Banta testified in Judge Zook's Court that she had not placed a child born to her in April, 1912, in charge of Mrs. Annie Porteous of San Francisco. Mrs. Porteous said that Mrs. Banta placed a child born to her in April, 1912, in her charge and agreed to pay her $25 per month for its care. After three months the payments ceased, according to Mrs. Porteous, and she filed suit.

Mrs. Banta denied ever placing a child in Mrs. Porteous's care, and even denied that she was the mother of a child in 1912. It was after Dr. Edwin Topham of San Francisco testified that he attended Mrs. Banta in 1912 that Judge Zook ordered District Attorney Butler to prosecute against her.

Before her marriage to Hanbury Mrs. Banta was Miss Marie Eleanor Hamfield, a telephone girl. Later her husband filed a sensational divorce suit, naming several University of California students as respondents. The suit was compromised.

Berkeley—Professor Carlton H. Carter, investigator of housing conditions in the hop fields, has gone to Washington.

Deutschland Off the Mouth of Wesser River After Second Round Trip to U. S.

Berlin.—The submarine merchantman Deutschland, after a quick trip, arrived at noon December 10 off the mouth of the Weser.

The Deutschland left New London on November 21, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Her return voyage to Bremen was thus made in nineteen days, two days longer than it took her to make her trip from that port to New London. Her first voyage to this side of the Atlantic, which ended at Baltimore, was made in twenty-three days.

The Deutschland's return from New London was delayed five days by a disastrous culmination of her original start. The submarine freighter slid out of her pier in the dead of the night and in the early morning hours, in the treacherous waters known as the Race, she collided with her escorting tug, the T. A. Scott, Jr. Five lives were lost.

It is reported the Deutschland will go into drydock in Bremerhaven and permanent repairs made to her bow. She will also be completely overhauled.

The Deutschland's cargo on this voyage is estimated to be worth at least $2,000,000. It consists of crude rubber, tin, copper and other metals.

WILL MAKE RETURN TRIP IN FEW WEEKS

New London, Conn.—The German commercial submarine Deutschland, which arrived in home waters December 10, will make another trip to this port within the next few weeks, according to a statement by Paul G. L. Hilken, vice-president of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agents for the undersea craft. He added that the submarine would make regular trips as long as the war continued.

Several carloads of tin have arrived at the docks here and shipments of crude rubber are expected this week.

Stevedores have been ordered to report early in January.

SEATTLE "DRY SQUAD" WRECKS A $40,000 BAR

Dining-Room Fixtures in Hotel Cecil Are Also Smashed

Seattle.—Fixtures and furnishings, valued at $40,000, in the barroom and dining-room of the Hotel Cecil, on Upper First avenue here, were destroyed with axes by the dry squad of the Seattle Police Department Friday morning, December 8, for alleged violation of the prohibition law. John E. Savage, proprietor of the hotel, and two Japanese bellboys, were arrested on the charge of unlawfully having intoxicating liquor in their possession.

The dry squad entered the hotel shortly after midnight and, according to Police Sergeant Putnam who directed the raid, found in the barroom cash drawer two marked one-dollar bills which, the sergeant declared, had been given by agents of the police in payment for liquor.

Savage at once telephoned to Mayor Gill, and the destruction of the hotel was delayed by the Mayor's order until, after an investigation of two hours, he was convinced the law had been violated. Then four trustees from the City Jail, under direction of members of the dry squad, smashed the fixtures with axes. A mahogany bar and two plate glass mirrors, said to be some of the largest ever brought to the Pacific Coast, were among the property destroyed.

Savage declared no liquor had been sold in the hotel since the going into effect of the prohibition law.

Suit to recover the value of the fixtures and furniture will be instituted by Savage against the city of Seattle, Mayor Gill, Chief of Police Beckingham and Police Sergeant Putnam, head of the dry squad.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

News Received the Past Week

70,000 RUMANIANS ARE CAPTURED BY TEUTONS

RECENT ATTACK ON ENTENTE ALLIES PLOT OF KING

London.—The Teutons are sweeping on in Rumania to the conquest of more and more territory. Everywhere on the 200-mile front in Eastern Wallachia Ferdinand's troops are in retreat.

The retirement of the Rumanians before the on-rushing enemy is proving even more costly than followers of the campaign had foreseen in the last week. According to Berlin, 70,000 prisoners have fallen into the hands of Mackensen and Falkenhayn. "The losses in dead and wounded are proportionate," the statement adds.

The losses inflicted on the Rumanian artillery have been no less severe. The same period of depression in the fortunes of the Rumanians has given the Teutons 184 cannon and 120 machine guns. The total taken is incalculable, Berlin states.

"The size of these figures," says the announcement, "permits of a plain conclusion being drawn as to the importance of the success obtained by the Teutonic troops and shows to what a degree the Rumanian army is demoralized."

Several thousand Rumanian soldiers were trapped when the Ninth German army, under Delmingsen, routed divisions which tried to escape from the Predeal sector toward the southeast.

The swift retreat of the Rumanians has compelled the Russians to abandon positions they held in this region now flanked by the German forces.

The continued absence of any statement to the contrary from Teutonic sources forces the conclusion that the main Rumanian army is still beyond the grasp of the enemy and probably already taking its station near the line of the Sereth, where it will make the final bid for Moldavia.

PROPHET IN WOODEN HOUSE

Emerson Led a Life Devoid of Incident and Left but Little for His Biographer.

Emerson occupied in the natural course of things the pontifical chair at Concord, Mass., in the days of New England's literary ascendancy when his contemporaries were men like Longfellow, Whittier, Hawthorne, Holmes and Lowell.

His wooden house, homely and hospitable as simplicity and kindness could make it, had the dignities of philosophic supremacy.

Pilgrims of thought come and go in that household temple, they sit at the feet and circle round the hearth of the "radiant optimist," thinker and poet and teacher, whose one reproach, according to his English biographer, was "that with full knowledge that his history must be written, he thought fit to lead a life devoid of incident, of early untroubled happiness and of absolute conformity to the moral law."

And the portrait has been drawn again and again of the tall figure with shoulders slightly bent as befits a scholar, with brows not over high above the deep-set blue eyes (the blueness is emphasized), with the sensitive mouth and the semblance "as of a spirit intrusted with earthly interests."

The Most Virtuous of Birds.

Storks, according to some ancient writers (they can hardly be called authorities), are the most virtuous and domestic of birds. One of them, Friar Bartholomew, says: "While the female liveth, the male keepeth truly to her in nest. And if a male espy, in any wise, that the female hath broke outhead, she shall no more dwell with him; but he beareth and striketh her with his bill, and slayeth her if he may." The same writer remarks that storks, in their overseas migrations, are convoyed by crows, who "withstand with all their might fowls that hate storks." An engaging characteristic attributed to these birds is that they "nourish their parents when oppressed with age"—London Chronicle.

Joys and Trials of Daddy's Life

By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Workshop! the heart lifts above.
The heavens reject not!
The desire of the moth for the star,
Of the night for the morning,
The desire of the star
From the sphere of our sorrow.

While the world and his wife cheer the man with a large family of children, nobody knows save daddy how much it costs to keep the family up in the way it thinks it ought to live when the boys and girls have grown up.

If the son is taken into daddy's office, he expects quite as much salary as a competent person would receive. No matter how urgent the call of duty may be, he takes it upon himself to throw down his pen, shuns up his ledger and flies off to the race track if he takes a notion. Daddy would call him strictly to account if he dared, but the boy has his mother and the whole family at his back. Mother would far rather take a tongue lashing herself than to have it administered to the darling of her heart.

As for the girls, they are a law unto themselves. They want a large house, fine clothes, an automobile and servants. His wife tells him coldly that she should have expected he'd have all these things to do when he became a daddy. Of course they love him after their own fashion. That's one consolation. Yet, after all, why should daddy complain? The thought that he is making his loved ones, and theirs, happy is the greatest happiness of his life.

If his son goes off for a week's hike with companions and telegraphs him for money, he cannot administer to him a good sound lecture on hoeling his own road and roughing it, because of the tears of the family. When the young man's friends realize dad is an easy mark, his wants are many and by no means far between. Father imagines his cares will be ended when he sets the boy up in business for himself and the girls marry. He soon finds that his worries have just begun. An old head cannot be put on young, inexperienced shoulders. The boys find it an easy matter to go through funds their father worked so hard for.

His air castles regarding helpful sons-in-law take a tumble when he finds he has just so many more added to his family to support. He is told that each and every one will make good in time. This seldom, if ever happens, in daddy's time, or by their own efforts. He gets a good deal of comfort out of admiring his children and building hopes for them. That's about all the joy he gets out of being a daddy. Of course they love him after their own fashion. That's one consolation. Yet, after all, why should daddy complain? The thought that he is making his loved ones, and theirs, happy is the greatest happiness of his life.

SOME SMILES

For Its Size, Sting of Bee Is Most Effective
Infernal Machine Known

Professional Jealousy.
First Sourette—I think as a rule it's disappointment that drives men to drink.

Second Sourette—I'm sure you are right, dear. I noticed tonight, after you had sung the first verse of your song, there was a mad rush for the bar.

Somewhat Sarcastic.
Smith — My wife has persuaded me to accompany her to church next Sunday.

Jones — Well, you have my best wishes.

Smith — Best wishes for what?

Jones — Pleasant dreams.

Juvenile Logic.
Lester, age five, was saying his evening prayer at his mother's knee, and she was aiding him with suggestions. "Bless and take care of the little lambs of the flock," she said.

Now, Lester knew that he was included among the lambs, and he reasoned that his parents should not be forgotten. "Bless and take care of the little lamb of the flock," he repeated—then added: "And I guess, Lord, you had better keep an eye on the old sheep, too."

Limited Practice.
The lecturer spoke slowly, almost painfully, as one not accustomed to talking.

"Not much of a speaker," observed a man in the gallery.

"No wonder," replied the occupant of an adjoining seat. "He's been married for more than thirty years."

The Aftermath.
Omar—Didn't I see Doctor Dosemen's machine at your door yesterday?

Helen—You probably did.

Omar—Anything serious?

Helen—I should say so. He wanted to collect a bill I have owed him for nearly two years.

Strictly Private.
"It does seem strange," said the plain but wealthy maid, "that of all women in the world, you should love me alone."

"Nothing remarkable about matter of fact youth. You certainly don't expect me to make a fool of myself in public, do you?"

Grim Reminder.
"Do you find football more exciting than baseball?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," replied the fair debutante. "I don't know much about the game, 'tis true, but the sight of an ambulance standing near the side lines thrills me to the core."

Losing Venture.
"Do you know anything about the milieu of this play?" asked the man with horn-rimmed spectacles.

"If you mean the chap who's hawking this show," answered the amiable lowbrow, "I guess he's off somewhere wishing he could kick himself."

Tall to the Kite.
Smith—I lost my identity for two whole weeks this summer.

Jones—How did that happen?

Smith—Spent my vacation among my wife's relatives, where I was simply known as Cordelia's husband.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER

It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start you off just as well as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a second's time. Instead of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you—Adv.

BIGGEST WATER WAGON.

The Russian drama has passed a bill making the suppression of vodka a permanent national policy. The measure prohibits the manufacture and sale of any beverage containing more than 1½ per cent of alcohol. This bars beer and light wines.

"Under the difficult conditions of wartime," says M. Bark, minister of finance, "we ventured to forego a huge drain revenue and thereby most clearly demonstrate that, with a return to peace, when the state exchequer recovers all its former sources of revenue, and a sobered people fully develops its greatly increased productivity in the peaceful field of labor, Russia calmly and confidently will be able to live with a temperance budget."

The Russian empire comprises one-seventh of the habitable globe. Its water wagon carries some 175,000,000 people, who, despite the enormous burdens of the costliest war of history, are increasingly prosperous, more fit, physically, morally and financially than before ever to serve their country.

Missing!

A small girl, aged five, was studying intently a picture of the Garden of Eden. At last she said, in a perplexed voice: "But, mother, where is the carriage?"

"Carriage!" exclaimed her mother in great surprise. "What can you mean, dear? There was no carriage in the Garden of Eden."

"But," remonstrated the child, "you told me that the Lord drove Adam and Eve out of the Garden."

SAYS NO GOOD.

"That woman's tongue goes as fast as an express."

"Which isn't the only point of resemblance, for like an express, it is always on the way."

To keep clean and healthy take Dr. Pierce's Pissant Pellets. They regulate liver, bowels and stomach.

GOOD FAITH.

"How can you say you enjoy that woman's reading when she is so monstrous?"

"I do enjoy it. I am suffering from insomnia."

PHYSICALLY IMPOSSIBLE.

"The danger was so near me that my hair stood up on my head."

"Then you couldn't have had such a loose shave."

AS HE CHARACTERIZED IT.

"Did your husband lose his money betting on a horse?"

"No," replied young Mrs. Torkins.

"This time he says he lost it betting on an old dog."

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Poker keeps more men awake nights than brain fatigue.

And kissing is responsible for a good deal of heart trouble.

Patriotism doesn't always depend on the size of your country.

A man can take a day off occasionally, but his rent goes on just the same.

TAXPAYERS DO NOT HAVE TO SETTLE FOR THE PAVEMENTS MADE OF GOOD INTENTIONS.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN WHEN A GIRL PURSES HER LIPS FOR THE BENEFIT OF A YOUNG MAN.

After fortune knocks at a man's door he may be able to prove an alibi—but what's the use?

Clothes do not make the man, but his tailor frequently gives him an expensive appearance.

And the lazy man consoles himself with the shop-worn adage about the face not being always to the swift.

CLUB HAS UNUSUAL RULES.

Unusual rules have been adopted by the Thimble Bee club of 20 members, of Florence, Pa. Any member who is a musician and does not bring her favorite instrument or song to the meeting is to be fined. All must have their fancy work, the membership of the organization being limited to young women.

GROWTH OF ESPERANTO.

The literature of Esperanto has increased from 20 books in 1880 to 2,500 in 1914, and during the last three or four years six full-length original novels have been published in the language.

"Marrying Parson" Lays Down Set of Ten Rules to Guide Husband Seeker

SMALL GIRL PROVED AN EFFICIENT MATCHMAKER.

Not Quite So Tactful as the Little God of Love Would Have Been, but Her Methods Were as Effective.

Henderson rushed into the dingy suburban railway station much the same as he rushed about his business affairs. As he closed the door he was greeted by four of his college friends, all returning after a vacation.

While engaged in conversation with his friends an elderly man approached, stretched out his hand in greeting and asked if Henderson was returning to the college town. Answered in the affirmative, the man requested a favor of Henderson—that he assist his daughter, who was a schoolteacher in the college town, to her home.

With visions of a scrawny, bespectacled, elderly schoolma'am, Henderson obligingly accepted the duty of escort, agreeing to report soon to meet the teacher.

He put off the meeting until he heard the train whistle for the station. Then he made his way to the women's waiting room, where, to his surprise, he beheld a bright and vivacious girl of twenty-three years, with a merry twinkle in her eyes.

Shunt the rouge pot, copy the cat, avoid witticism and keep silent like a clam" is the advice given to marrying girls by Rev. John H. Pierce, the "marrying parson" of Oakland, Cal., who has wedded 4,000 couples in his lifetime. Rev. Mr. Pierce has laid down the following ten rules for feminine guidance:

1. Plan your campaign with the wisdom of the serpent, conceal it with the silence of a clam, execute it with the strategy of a Machiavelli.

2. Avoid all witticism about marriage.

3. Veil with alluring helplessness the iron of self-sufficiency.

4. When a man declares "I shall never marry" mark him for easy prey.

5. Be inwardly bold as a lion; outwardly timid as a young fawn.

6. The loudest

Editorial Comments

Notwithstanding the banks, street railways and high schools are engaged in publishing newspapers, the "regulars" still continue to go to press at the usual time.

There were 23 automobiles in the naval base commission parade Tuesday, during the inspection of the Albany site. There was no banquet, no entertaining features permitted. The naval commission is here on business, not for pleasure.

It is said that efforts are being made by Berkeley educators to have the legislature amend the school laws so that intensive education for boys and girls will be imperative.

The plan is to require teachers to work eight hours a day and that the schools be kept open every day in the year. The boys to be given the forenoon session only, and the girls the afternoon. It is claimed by this plan boys would be given an opportunity to work in the afternoons and the girls to assist in their mothers' household duties of mornings. Boys would be better fitted for life work when finishing their college course at 25 and 26, where now they are handicapped by pride and ignorance of handicraft.
